

SENSORIAL
Symphonies

SENSORIAL SYMPHONIES – FRAMING PROGRAMME

As associate artist Elisabeth Schilling prepares her new production for the 2025 • 26 season, she invites you to dive into the fascinating world of plants and explore the wonders of nature through music and movement!

The events are open to people of all ages and abilities.

SATURDAY, 8 FEBRUARY, 5PM • THÉÂTRE DES CAPUCINS

Verdant Echoes – Panel discussion with Elisabeth Schilling
& Fondation Jeunes Scientifiques Luxembourg

This event explores the connections between art and scientific research, focusing on plants and their interconnectivity. Introduced by botanist Odile Weber, it will feature research, art, and choreography, offering a transdisciplinary perspective on the plant world.

Free entry, register at theatres.lu/fr/verdantechoes

07 MAY TO 18 OCTOBER • PARK BETWEEN AV. EMILE REUTER & AV. MONTEREY

Green Disco

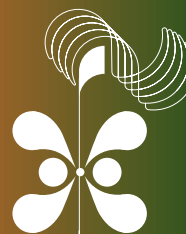

The Green Disco, part of LUGA – Luxembourg Urban Garden, is a unique public art project by choreographer Elisabeth Schilling and plant composer Alexandra Duvekot, inspired by Sensorial Symphonies. This immersive experience invites you to connect with nature through interactive signs in the park around Villa Vauban, encouraging you to mimic tree movements and shapes.

26 JUNE, 12.30PM • GRAND THÉÂTRE Sensorial Symphonies: Lunch Break Rehearsal

Take a break and dive into the world of dance and movement as we explore plant-inspired choreography during this one-off lunchtime session.

Please register here:

BOTANICAL Beats

BOTANICAL BEATS • EXHIBITION & WORKSHOPS

As part of the Sensorial Symphonies performances, Elisabeth Schilling is organising an exhibition at the Grand Théâtre, which will run from September 27 to October 2, 2025 under the name Botanical Beats. The exhibition will be created from a series of workshops where participants share their plant-related stories beforehand. These stories will be written by Ian De Toffoli and transformed into short dance performances by emerging dancers. Additionally, the stories and insights gathered will serve as the inspiration for a specially designed garden by the Service des Parcs in the Ville de Luxembourg.

Are you interested in participating?
Then register for the upcoming free workshops!

08 MARCH • BOTANICAL BEATS WORKSHOP

Join writer Ian de Toffoli and choreographer Elisabeth Schilling for creative workshops exploring your plant stories. We'll discuss questions like:

- Which plants are meaningful to you?
- Are there flowers or trees that hold deep meaning for you, and why?
- Do you have a favorite flower that has accompanied you for years?

Along with Elisabeth Schilling, who will share insights from her two years of research on plant life and culture, these workshops offer a deep dive into the fascinating world of plants.

Please register here:

28 JUNE 14H-16H • DANCE WORKSHOP

Plant Dance: The Art of Translating Plant Textures into Movement and Creating Your Own Green Choreography

Join choreographer Elisabeth Schilling to explore the dance processes behind Sensorial Symphonies. Discover plant-inspired temporality, texture, and decentralization through movement, engaging all your senses.

Please register here:

